Schoolhouse K-12 Innovative Productions | Single-User License Agreement

"Authentic by Design, Research-Driven, Experience-Built, Classroom-Ready."

License Agreement and Terms of Use

This educational product is the intellectual property of Schoolhouse K-12 Innovative Productions and is protected by U.S. and international copyright law. It is provided under a limited, non-transferable, single-user license. Additional licenses must be obtained for use by multiple educators, departments, or schools. By purchasing or downloading this product, you agree to comply with the following conditions.

Authorized Use

This resource may be used solely by the original purchaser for direct instructional use with the purchaser's own students.

Authorized Use of Print-Based Products

You, the purchaser, may project this resource in class or live screen-share it. You may not upload this product to Google Slides, Seesaw, Canvas, shared drives, email, websites, or any learning management system. Printed copies may be provided only to students in the original purchaser's own student group for direct instructional use. Student copies may leave the instructional setting only as part of that same permitted use, including unfinished classwork or assigned homework. No additional printing, photocopying, or distribution beyond the original purchaser's own student group is permitted.

Authorized Use of Digital-Based Products

Digital-based products, including fillable PDFs and other non-editable digital classroom materials, may be assigned, projected, or used digitally by the original purchaser for direct instructional use with the purchaser's own students. These products may be used in live instruction, live screen-sharing, and secure teacher-controlled student delivery, including through platforms such as Google Classroom or similar classroom management systems, only when access is limited to the original purchaser and that purchaser's own students. These products may not be shared with other educators, staff members, schools, departments, or organizations, and may not be posted, forwarded, transferred, or redistributed in any form beyond the original purchaser's own student group. Adaptation for classroom use does not transfer ownership and does not alter the single-user nature of this license.

Authorized Use of Fully Editable Digital Products

Some Schoolhouse K-12 Innovative Productions products may include editable digital files, such as PowerPoint templates, editable presentation files, editable project files, or other digital materials intentionally designed to allow customization by the original purchaser. Your purchase of this Schoolhouse K-12 Innovative Productions intellectual product grants you permission to modify its instructional contents for direct instructional use with your own students only. The edited product may be presented, assigned, or otherwise used only by the original purchaser with the purchaser's own students. However, the product ID and all Schoolhouse K-12 Innovative Productions identifying branding, including logos, footers, ownership notices, embedded identifiers, and other ownership markings, must remain intact and may not be removed, altered, obscured, cropped out, covered, disabled, or tampered with. Editable files, including modified versions created by the original purchaser, remain fully protected under this single-user license and may not be shared, uploaded, distributed, transferred, sublicensed, or used to create derivative products for any other purpose.

Restrictions on Sharing

Distribution, sharing, forwarding, transfer, or redistribution of this resource beyond the original purchaser and the purchaser's own students is not permitted. This includes sharing with other educators, staff members, departments, schools, or organizations, whether by email, websites, school platforms, cloud storage, shared drives, or any other means.

Commercial Restrictions

This product may not be resold, sublicensed, or displayed for public or commercial purposes. Some teacher-facing resources may be provided in clean Microsoft Word format or other editable formats. These files are offered solely to allow the original purchaser to customize them for use within that purchaser's own classroom. Editable files remain fully protected under this single-user license and may not be shared, uploaded, distributed, or used to create derivative products for any other purpose.

Print-Only Rule

Printed copies may be distributed only to students in the original purchaser's own student group. Printing or photocopying for the purpose of sharing with other educators, departments, schools, or organizations is strictly prohibited.

Protection of Schoolhouse K-12 Innovative Productions Logo and Identifiers

Altering, obscuring, attempting to remove, covering, cropping out, disabling, or tampering with Schoolhouse K-12 Innovative Productions product identifiers, product IDs, embedded ownership notices, logos, or footers is strictly prohibited. Any attempt to bypass, reproduce, strip, or misrepresent protected content constitutes a violation of this license and copyright law.

Legal Notice

Unauthorized modification, use, dissemination, sharing, redistribution, posting, extraction, resale, or transfer of this resource violates copyright law and the terms of this single-user license agreement. Once internal digital tracking or embedded digital identifiers identify non-compliant activity, Schoolhouse K-12 Innovative Productions will pursue appropriate enforcement action in response to the identified violation. Such action will include, when applicable, DMCA enforcement, civil action, reimbursement of legal fees incurred in seeking a remedy, and the pursuit of monetary damages, costs, and any other financial relief awarded by a court of competent jurisdiction. All rights reserved.
